RESIDENTIAL REAL ESTATE

Coral Gables offers a wide range of housing choices including rental units, condominiums, and single-family homes in a stable residential real estate market. Over the years, homes in the City have appreciated at a rate significantly greater than many of the surrounding areas. The median house value, estimated at $733,000, is nearly five times greater than in 1980. Strict zoning laws, a favorable property tax rate and responsive municipal services, together with beautiful residential areas, make Coral Gables a highly sought-after address.

HISTORICAL LANDMARKS

The City's Historical Resources Department administers the historic preservation program to preserve structures, sites, objects and districts within the City which reflect architectural, historical and/or cultural significance. A Historic Preservation Ordinance was adopted in 1973 in response to the community's growing concern for protecting its irreplaceable historic resources. Recently the Biltmore Hotel became a National Historic Landmark, joining only two others in Dade County—Vizcaya and the Magellan Railroad Car used by F.D.R. The following is a partial listing of properties which are included on the National Register of Historic Places; 600 properties are also on the Coral Gables Register of Historic Places, receiving important local designation and benefits:

- Coral Gables City Hall, 1928 (405 Biltmore Way)
- Coral Gables Congregational Church, 1923 — First church to be built in Coral Gables (3010 De Soto Boulevard)
- Venetian Pool, 1923 — Originally a rock quarry, later converted into a pool which conveys the old world charm of Venice (2701 De Soto Boulevard)
- Miami-Biltmore Hotel and Country Club, 1925-26 — Premier hotel resort in Miami during late 1920s, recently renovated (1200 Anastasia Avenue)
- Seven thematic residential villages, built 1925-27, designed to add diversity to the City's predominantly Mediterranean character
- Coral Gables/Merrick House, 1906 — Boyhood home of Coral Gables founder George Merrick (907 Coral Way)
- Coral Gables Elementary School, 1923-26 — First grammar school to be built in Coral Gables (105 Minorca Ave)
- Coral Gables Woman's Club, 1936-37 — The first WPA project in Coral Gables (1001 E. Ponce de Leon Boulevard)

- Douglas Entrance, 1925-27 – The first main entrance into Coral Gables (Douglas Road and Tamiami Trail)

MEDITERRANEAN DESIGN

A Mediterranean Architectural Ordinance adopted in 1986 and updated in 2005, provides incentives to developers building or renovating in Mediterranean style. To offset the higher costs of building in Mediterranean style, the City grants development bonuses and special allowances with reference to maximum building height, parking, square footage, etc. Most commercial buildings constructed in the City since the adoption of the ordinance have taken advantage of the ordinance, resulting in several Mediterranean-style projects.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

In 1989, the City Commission formed the Development Department and in 2009 renamed it to the Economic Sustainability Department to foster and enhance sound economic growth compatible with the adopted policies and quality of life in the City of Coral Gables. The department assists realtors, building owners, and organizations in attracting domestic and international prospects by utilizing direct contacts, follow-up visits, brochures, and audiovisual material. A special focus is placed on multinational recruitment and retail development. The department also emphasizes the need for developing a better relationship with the existing business community to help improve the retention and expansion of these businesses. In addition, the department is responsible for providing specialized economic development data, including demographics, property availability and development trends.

The Economic Sustainability Department also distributes informational material such as City maps, cultural information, visitor's guides, etc. upon request.
