

Living Room Balance Beam

Test your balance with this fun game you can play in your living room or even in your backyard. All you need is some colored tape!

For this game you will tape a line on the floor and must walk and balance your way through. Just like gymnast on a balance beam. You can make more difficult by adding more lines with zig zags or even attempt to making it the path on one foot.

If you lose balance, you must start over.
