2017 ANNUAL CASE ANALYSIS

During the past year we have experienced a slight increase in the number of Internal Affairs Cases investigated; however, there was a slight decrease in the number of external cases - from thirteen (13) to eight (8). Additionally, there was an increase in internally generated cases - from five (5) to thirteen (13). The increase of the internal cases is due to the fact that during 2017 calendar year the internal affairs section investigated two cases involving "non-police personnel" and there was also three cases involving a discharge of a firearm. If we take this into consideration we are within the six year average of cases investigated.

After reviewing the cases investigated by the Internal Affairs Section, there does not appear to be a need to readdress any specific areas of policies and procedures.
