Report of Results 2023

Report by:

National Research Center at Polco is a charter member of the AAPOR Transparency Initiative, providing clear disclosure of our sound and ethical survey research practices.

About The NCS™

The National Community Survey™ (The NCS™) report is about the "livability" of Coral Gables. A livable community is a place that is not simply habitable, but that is desirable. It is not only where people do live, but where they want to live. The survey was developed by the experts from National Research Center at Polco.

Great communities are partnerships of the government, private sector, community-based organizations and residents, all geographically connected. The NCS captures residents' opinions considering ten central facets of a community:

POWERED BY POLCO

- Mobility
- Community Design

- Safety
- Natural Environment
- Parks and Recreation
- · Health and Wellness
- · Education, Arts, and Culture
- · Inclusivity and Engagement

The report provides the opinions of a representative sample of 452 residents of the City of Coral Gables collected from September 13, 2023 to October 23, 2023. The margin of error around any reported percentage is 5% for all respondents and the response rate for the 2023 survey was 16%. Survey results were weighted so that the demographic profile of respondents was representative of the demographic profile of adults in Coral Gables.

How the results are reported

For the most part, the percentages presented in the following tabs represent the "percent positive." Most commonly, the percent positive is the combination of the top two most positive response options (i.e., excellent/good, very safe/somewhat safe, etc.). On many of the questions in the survey respondents may answer "don't know." The proportion of respondents giving this reply is shown in the full set of responses included in the tab "Complete data." However, these responses have been removed from the analyses presented in most of the tabs. In other words, the tables and graphs display the responses from respondents who had an opinion about a specific item.

Comparisons to benchmarks

NRC's database of comparative resident opinion is comprised of resident perspectives gathered in surveys from over 500 communities whose residents evaluated the same kinds of topics on The National Community Survey. The comparison evaluations are from the most recent survey completed in each community in the last five years. NRC adds the latest results quickly upon survey completion, keeping the benchmark data fresh and relevant. The communities in the database represent a wide geographic and population range. In each tab, Coral Gable's results are noted as being "higher" than the benchmark, "lower" than the benchmark, or "similar" to the benchmark, meaning that the average rating given by Coral Gables residents is statistically similar to or different (greater or lesser) than the benchmark. Being rated as "higher" or "lower" than the benchmark means that Coral Gable's average rating for a particular item was more than 10 points different than the benchmark. If a rating was "much higher" or "much lower," then Coral Gable's average rating was more than 20 points different when compared to the benchmark.

The survey was administered after the COVID-19 pandemic, a time of challenge for many local governments. While we provide comparisons to national benchmarks, it is important to note that much of the benchmark data was collected prior to or during the pandemic. This may impact how your City's 2023 ratings compare to other communities' ratings from the past five years.

Trends over time

Trend data for Coral Gables represent important comparison data and should be examined for improvements or declines. Deviations from stable trends over time represent opportunities for understanding how local policies, programs, or public information may have affected residents' opinions. Changes between survey years have been noted with an arrow and the percent difference. If the difference is greater than seven percentage points between the 2021 and 2023 surveys, the change is statistically significant.

1. In 2020, The NCS survey was updated to include new and refreshed items. Consequently, some of the trends may be impacted due to wording modifications that could have potentially altered the meaning of the item for the respondent.

Methods

Selecting survey recipients

All households within the City of Coral Gables were eligible to participate in the survey. A list of all households within the zip codes serving Coral Gables was purchased from Polco's mailing vendor, Go-Dog Direct, based on updated listings from the United States Postal Service. Since some of the zip codes that serve the City of Coral Gables households may also serve addresses that lie outside of the community, the exact geographic location of each housing unit was compared to community boundaries using the most current municipal boundary file. Addresses located outside of the City of Coral Gables boundaries were removed from the list of potential households to survey. Each address identified as being within City boundaries was further identified as being within one of the four Coucil districts. From that list, addresses were randomly selected as survey recipients, with multi-family housing units (defined as those with a unit number) sampled at a rate of 5:3 compared to single family housing units.

An individual within each household was randomly selected using the "birthday method". The birthday method selects a person within the household by asking the "person who most recently had a birthday" to complete the questionnaire. The underlying assumption in this method is that day of birth has no relationship to the way people respond to surveys. This instruction was contained in the introduction of the survey.

Conducting the survey

The 3,000 randomly selected households received mailings beginning on September 13, 2023 and data collection for the survey remained open for six weeks. The first mailing was a postcard inviting the household to participate in the survey. The next mailing contained a cover letter with instructions, the survey questionnaire, and a postage-paid return envelope. The final mailing was a reiminder postcard inviting the household one final time to participate in the survey. All mailings included a web link to give residents the opportunity to respond to the survey online. All follow-up mailings asked those who had not completed the survey to do so, and those who had already done so to refrain from completing the survey again.

About 3% of the 3,000 mailed invitations or surveys were returned because the household address was vacant or the postal service was unable to deliver the survey as addressed. Of the remaining 2,913 households that received the invitations to participate, 452 completed the survey, providing an overall response rate of 16%. The response rate was calculated using AAPOR's response rate #2 for mailed surveys of unnamed persons.<sup>1</sup>

It is customary to describe the precision of estimates made from surveys by a "level of confidence" and accompanying "confidence interval" (or margin of error). A traditional level of confidence, and the one used here, is 95%. The 95% confidence interval can be any size and quantifies the sampling error or imprecision of the survey results because some residents' opinions are relied on to estimate all residents' opinions. The margin of error for the City of Coral Gables survey is no greater than plus or minus five percentage points around any given percent reported for all respondents (452 completed surveys).

In addition to the randomly selected "probability sample" of households, a link to an online open-participation survey was publicized by the City of Coral Gables. The open-participation survey was identical to the random sample survey, with two small updates; it asked a question to confirm the respondent was a resident of Coral Gables and also a question about where they heard about the survey. The open-participation survey was open to all city residents and became available on October 11, 2023. The survey remained open for two weeks. The data presented in the following tabs exclude the open participation survey data, but a tab at the end provides the complete frequency of responses to questions by the open-participation respondents.

Analyzing the data

Responses from mailed surveys were entered into an electronic dataset using a "key and verify" method, where all responses are entered twice and compared to each other. Any discrepancies were resolved in comparison to the original survey form. Range checks as well as other forms of quality control were also performed. Responses from surveys completed on Polco were downloaded and merged with the mailed survey responses.

The demographics of the survey respondents were compared to those found in the 2020 Census and 2022 American Community Survey estimates for adults in the City of Coral Gables. The primary objective of weighting survey data is to make the survey respondents reflective of the larger population of the community. The characteristics used for weighting were age, sex, race, Hispanic origin, housing type, housing tenure, and area. No adjustments were made for design effects. Weights were calculated using an iterative, multiplicative raking model known as the ANES Weighting Algorithm.<sup>3</sup> The results of the weighting scheme for the probability sample are presented in the following table.

NRC aligns demographic labels with those used by the U.S. Census for reporting purposes, when possible. Some categories (e.g., age, race/Hispanic origin, housing type, and length of residency) are combined into smaller subgroups.

The survey datasets were analyzed using all or some of a combination of the Statistical Package for the Social Sciences (SPSS), R, Python and Tableau. For the most part, the percentages presented in the reports represent the "percent positive." The percent positive is the combination of the top two most positive response options (i.e., excellent/good, very safe/somewhat safe, essential/very important, etc.), or, in the case of resident behaviors/participation, the percent positive represents the proportion of respondents indicating "yes" or participating in an activity at least once a month.

On many of the questions in the survey respondents may answer "don't know." The proportion of respondents giving this reply is shown in the full set of responses included in the tab "Complete data". However, these responses have been removed from the analyses presented in the reports. In other words, the tables and graphs display the responses from respondents who had an opinion about a specific item.

Study Limitations

All public opinion research is subject to unmeasured error. While the methodologies employed for this survey were designed to minimize this error as much as possible, these other sources of potential error should be acknowledged, and can include non-response error, coverage error, recall bias and social desirability bias.

Non-response error arises when those who were selected to participate in the survey did not do so, and may have different opinions or experiences that survey responders. For general resident surveys, where the results are meant to be generalized to the entire adult population living in households, the mailing lists based on the Delivery Sequence File from the United States Post Office may exclude certain types of housing units, such as those in multi-family buildings where mail is addressed to a named resident at the address rather than to a specific unit or where residents only receive their mail at a post office box and the geographic location of a residence cannot be determined, there may be a coverage error, although for most locations, this is minimal. Respondents may not perfectly remember their experiences in the past year (such as participation in social or civic events), and for some survey items they may answer in ways they think cast their responses in a more favorable light (recall bias and social desirability bias).

Key Findings

Scores for mobility in Coral Gables generally remain stable, with some improvements observed since the previous survey.

Residents offered higher-than-average ratings (67% excellent or good) to the transportation system in Coral Gables. In addition, several items within this domain trended upward over prior results. About 4 in 10 residents positively rated traffic flow on major streets and the ease of public parking, while roughly two-thirds of participants praised the ease of travel by car; though these rankings were similar to benchmarks, each experienced a statistically significant increase from the 2021 survey. Similarly, about 7 in 10 participants highly rated street lighting in the city, up 15% from the previous survey. Reviews for street cleaning (70% excellent or good), bus or transit services (76%), and street repair (63%) all held steady with prior results and surpassed national averages. About 7 in 10 residents also approved of traffic enforcement and the ease of walking, staying consistent with the 2021 survey and the national averages.

Residents continue to enjoy a high quality of life and strong sense of safety in their community.

Many results pertaining to the quality of life in Coral Gables were higher than benchmark comparisons. Around 9 in 10 residents praised the overall quality of life and overall image or reputation of the city, scoring higher than the national benchmarks. Evaluations for Coral Gables as a place to raise children (90% excellent or good) and to retire (76%) also exceeded comparison communities across the country. Nearly 9 in 10 indicated a high likelihood of remaining in Coral Gables for the next five years, on par with benchmarks. Most respondents (95%) said they would recommend living in Coral Gables to someone who asks, in line with the previous survey's finding and scoring higher than the national average.

Consistently high assessments of safety in Coral Gables likely contribute to the community's exceptional quality of life. Approximately 9 in 10 community members positively rated the overall feeling of safety and police/sheriff services, which were stable with the City's 2021 results and higher than comparison communities across the nation. Crime prevention and emergency preparedness received above-average reviews from a similar proportion, reflecting a positive trend from the 2021 survey iteration. Residents also reported strong feelings of safety in their neighborhood during the day (96% very or somewhat safe), in Coral Gables' downtown/commercial area during the day (95%), from violent crime (94%), and from property crime (84%), highlighting the city's continued success in this area.

Coral Gables' economy remains strong.

Nearly all survey items relating to the local economy ranked higher than benchmark comparison communities, with a few items trending upward from prior survey results. The overall quality of business and service establishments (92% excellent or good) received more favorable reviews this year than in 2021. Similarly, about 8 in 10 residents highly rated the vibrancy of downtown/commercial areas and shopping opportunities, both demonstrating slight gains. Reviews for Coral Gables' economic development (76%) and overall economic health (88%) remained stable from prior results. In contrast, around 6 in 10 respondents positively evaluated the city's employment opportunities, reflecting a statistically significant decline from the previous iteration but still higher than other comparison communities. When asked what impact residents think the economy will have on their family income in the next 6 months, only about one-quarter of community members anticipated a very or somewhat positive impact; though similar to national benchmarks, this rating declined from the 2021 survey, indicating an area of opportunity for the city. Cost of living received similarly low marks (27% excellent or good) but fell in line with benchmarks and previous results.

Many aspects of the Coral Gables' community design receive positive reviews, but residents identify some potential areas of opportunity for the city.

Around 8 in 10 residents highly rated the overall design or layout of residential and commercial areas, representing a statistically significant increase from the 2021 survey iteration and scoring higher than the national average. Many aspects of community design in Coral Gables maintained positive rankings from the previous results and rated higher than national benchmarks, including overall appearance (93% excellent or good), public spaces where people want to spend time (72%), well-designed neighborhoods (77%), and residents' neighborhood as a place to live (96%). Around half of respondents positively rated the well-planned residential growth and well-planned commercial growth, consistent with the previous survey findings and benchmark comparison communities. However, items related to housing received less favorable results. The variety of housing options earned positive marks from just under half of respondents but remained in line with both prior results and national averages. The availability of affordable quality housing (15% excellent or good), though reflecting steady ratings from the 2021 survey, ranked lower than benchmarks, indicating an area of opportunity for the city.

Facets of livability

Every jurisdiction must balance limited resources while meeting resident needs and striving to optimize community livability. To this end, it is helpful to know what aspects of the community are most important to residents and which they perceive as being of higher or lower quality. It is especially helpful to know when a facet of livability is considered of high importance but rated as lower quality, as this should be a top priority to address.

Quality-Importance Matrix

To help guide City staff and officials with decisions on future resource allocation, resident ratings of the importance of facets were compared to their ratings of the quality of these facets. To identify the services perceived by residents to have relatively lower quality at the same time as relatively higher importance, all facets were ranked from highest perceived quality to lowest perceived quality and from highest perceived importance to lowest perceived importance. Some facets were in the top half of both lists (higher quality and higher importance); some were in the top half of one list but the bottom half of the other (higher quality and lower importance or lower quality and higher importance); and some facets were in the bottom half of both lists.

Facets receiving quality ratings of excellent or good by 83% or more of respondents were considered of "higher quality" and those with ratings lower than 83% were considered to be of "lower quality." Services were classified as "more important" if they were rated as essential or very important by 89% or more of respondents. Services were rated as "less important" if they received a rating of less than 89%. This classification uses the median ratings for quality and importance to divide the services in half.

The quadrants in the figure below show which community facets were given higher or lower importance ratings (right-left) and which had higher or lower quality ratings (up-down). Facets of livability falling closer to a diagonal line from the lower left to the upper right are those where performance ratings are more commensurate with resident priorities. Facets scoring closest to the lower right hand corner of the matrix (higher in importance and lower in quality) are those that may warrant further investigation to see if changes to their delivery are necessary to improve their performance. This is the key part of this chart on which to focus. Facets falling in the top left hand corner of the chart (lower in importance but higher in quality) are areas where performance may outscore resident priorities, and may be a consideration for lower resource allocation.

Quality and Importance by the Numbers

The charts below show the proportion of residents who rated the community facets positively for quality and the priority (importance) placed on each. Also displayed is whether local ratings were lower, similar, or higher than communities across the country (the national benchmark).

This dashboard contains a complete set of responses to each question on the survey. By default, "don't know" responses are excluded, but may be added to the table using the response filter to the right. In some tables, the percentages may not sum to 100%; this is either because the question permitted the respondent to "choose all that apply", or for a question that asked the respondent to select one answer, it is due to the customary practice of rounding values to the nearest whole number.

Methods (open participation)

As part of its participation in The National Community Survey™ (The NCS™), the City of Coral Gables conducted a survey of 526 residents. Survey invitations were mailed to randomly selected households and data were collected from September 25, 2023 to November 13, 2023. The results from this main survey effort represent the most robust estimate of your residents' opinions.

After the above data collection period was underway, a link to an online open participation survey was publicized by the City of Coral Gables. The open participation survey was identical to the probability sample survey with two small updates; it included a map at the beginning asking where the respondent lives and also a question about where they heard about the survey. The open participation survey was open to all city residents and became available on October 23, 2023. The survey remained open for two weeks and there were 192 responses.

The open participation survey data were not collected through a random sample and it is unknown who in the community was aware of the survey; therefore, a level of confidence in the representativeness of the sample cannot be estimated. However, to reduce bias where possible, these data were statistically weighted to match the demographic characteristics of the 2020 Census and 2022 American Community Survey estimates for adults in the City of Coral Gables. The characteristics used for weighting were age, sex, race, Hispanic origin, housing type, housing tenure, and area. No adjustments were made for design effects. Weights were calculated using an iterative, multiplicative raking model known as the ANES Weighting Algorithm.<sup>19</sup> The results of the weighting scheme for the open participation survey are presented in the following table.

Open Participation Survey Results

This dashboard contains a complete set of responses to each question on the open participation survey. By default, "don't know" responses are excluded, but may be added to the table using the response filter to the right. In some tables, the percentages may not sum to 100%; this is either because the question permitted the respondent to "choose all that apply", or for a question that asked the respondent to select one answer, it is due to the customary practice of rounding values to the nearest whole number.

The City Beautiful

City Hall 405 Biltmore Way Coral Gables, FL 33134

September 2023

Dear City of Coral Gables Resident:

Please help us shape the future of Coral Gables. You have been selected at random to participate in the 2023 Coral Gables Community Survey. If you've already completed the survey online, thank you. Please do not respond twice.

Please take a few minutes to fill out the enclosed survey. Your participation in this survey is very important—especially since your household is one of only a small number being surveyed. Your feedback will help Coral Gables make decisions that affect our city.

A few things to remember:

- Your responses are confidential and no identifying information will be shared.
- In order to hear from a diverse group of residents, the adult 18 years or older in your household who most recently had a birthday should complete this survey.
- You may return the survey by mail in the enclosed postage-paid envelope, or you can complete the survey online at:

https://polco.us/xxplaceholder

Please do not share your survey link. This survey is for randomly selected households only. The City will conduct a separate survey that is open to all residents just a few weeks from now.

If you have any questions about the survey, please call 305-569-1835.

Thank you for your time and participation.

Sincerely,

Peter J. Iglesias, P.E.
